Ariel Partners to Provide Atlassian Managed Services for Samsung

Bringing Efficiency and Innovation to Samsung North America through Nimbus Now Partnership

New York, NY | February 7, 2024 – Ariel Partners, a trusted name in IT consulting and enterprise transformation, is thrilled to announce its partnership with NimbusNow to provide Atlassian Managed Services to Samsung North America. The managed services agreement covers the entire Atlassian suite including well-known tools Jira Software, Jira Service Management, Confluence, Jira Product Discovery, Loom, Guard, BitBucket, and Jira Align. With this move, Samsung can rapidly roll out new capabilities when and where needed across its North American operations, while being assured of comprehensive and responsive support.

Atlassian is renowned for its suite of powerful software tools designed to enhance collaboration, productivity, and innovation within organizations. Through this partnership, Ariel Partners will leverage its expertise to provide tailored Atlassian managed services, specifically configured to meet the unique needs of Samsung North America.

"At Ariel Partners, our mission is to empower organizations to achieve their goals through innovative technology solutions," says Craig Strong, CEO of Ariel Partners.

"Our partnership with Samsung North America is a testament to our commitment to delivering exceptional value to our clients. By harnessing the capabilities of Atlassian tools, we aim to drive efficiency, foster collaboration, and facilitate transformative change within Samsung's operations."

With Ariel Partners' Atlassian managed services, Samsung North America can expect a seamless transition to optimized workflow management. By harnessing the power of Atlassian tools such as Jira, Confluence, and Bitbucket, Samsung will experience improved project visibility, streamlined communication, more user-friendly support, and enhanced productivity across teams.
